Everitt, Ziegler In As Prexy, Secretary

The student body recently elected into office for the 1959-60 school term Dave Everitt as president and Jane Ziegler as secretary. The office of vice president has not been filled at the writing of this article. There wasn't a majority vote of the office and a run off election was held on Wednesday, the results of that election will be published in the next issue of the COLLEGIATE.

Representatives elected for the new term were Gloria Held, Pat Foley and Gary McGlocklin.

At the ASB Council meeting Monday President Sully Bayless and the member of the Student Council voted on a list of nominees for the office of treasurer and the final selection was Paul Cox.

Two other appointed officers, intercollegiate commissioner and athletic commissioner, will be filled before the end of the school year. Besides the three recently elected representatives three other representatives will be chosen in the fall, of whom two will be freshmen and one from the shops. these facts; however, an electrician had to be summoned, and it was several minutes before Olsen's release could be effected.

After Olsen served his time, the tour was completed successfully, and the students headed homeward.

CBC Student Held In State Prison

The members of CBC's psychology 103 classes were the voluntary guests of the Walla Walla State Prison Wednesday, April 15.

The group, headed by George Pappas and Mrs. Bonnie Harder, psychology instructors, left the college at high noon and returned at approximately 4:30 p.m.

Mr. Pappas, prison psychologist, served as guide and speaker.

Students were led through the prison buildings, through the cell blocks, across the yard, and along the top of the wall enclosing the prison.

According to news sources, everything went smoothly until the students reached the new maximum security section which is currently under construction. At that point Glen Olsen decided to step into one of the cells. Some anonymous soul then decided to close the cell gate. Except for the facts that the gate had locked electrically, and that the electrical system was incomplete, the incident probably would have passed as uneventful. Due to

Kirby 'In'

Ronald Kirby, an alumni of CBC since last year, was recently selected "Dream Man" from among 37 nominees at the University of Washington in Seattle.

The contest, an annual event at the University and sponsored this year by the Delta Zeta Sorority, is open to all fraternity and dormitory members at the "U". Ron is the first member of a dormitory to win the title of "Dream Man" and the gift certificate and trophies that go with the title. Finalists were judged by business men from the University area.

Ron, a pre-dental major and a member of Henderich House, is in his first year at the University. He went to CBC for two years and served as treasurer of the student body during his last quarter here.

Ron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Kirby, of Pasco.

CBC Graduates Receive Honors

Since the opening of CBC in the fall of 1955, graduates from this college have scored academic honors throughout the state. Obviously the school year of 1959 was no exception.

Some of last year's alumni who have made the honor roll at The Eastern College of Education are: Bev Ketel, Pat Figliola and Mary Morgan.

Taking the honors at Washington State University were Connie Buckingham, Doreen Gilbert, John Hebert, Guy Parkman, Glen Cheek, and Dorrene Gilbert.

Meanwhile, at the University of Washington Peter Riggie and Bob Tadlock made the honor roll. Tadlock has also been accepted as a dental school student and will begin his dental training next fall.

Debators Join National Group

The CBC debate squad was initiated into the national debate fraternity known as Phi Rho Pi last Saturday, May 16, during a banquet held in the Manor in Pasco.

Five members of the CBC debate squad were initiated as charter members of Phi Rho Pi. (The Brotherhood of The Art of Persuasion.) They were Sully Bayless, Roger Brown, William Dickey, Walker Douglas, and Daryl Johns. The chapter is known as Washington Epsilon.

Phi Rho Pi is a national organization or brotherhood for those who are seriously interested in advancing the art of speaking and persuasion. The brotherhood is made up of members from the junior colleges over the entire United States.

Special guests at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hillier from Grays Harbor Junior College in Aberdeen. Mr. Hillier is National President of Phi Rho Pi. He gave a short address and conducted the ceremony of initiation. Other guests included Mrs. Marvin Olmstead, Mrs. Sully Bayless, Mr. Marcus Dickey, Mr. Henry Brown, and Mr. S. W. Douglas.

Roger Brown, president of the Washington Epsilon chapter, was presented with the charter by Mr. Hillier. Brown, in turn, presented the charter to Sully Bayless, ASB president, who accepted the charter on behalf of the Associated Students of Columbia Basin College.

The key of Phi Rho Pi is symbolic in three ways. The ring located at the top of the key represents unity which is utmost in the work of Phi Rho Pi.

The second part is a scroll which stands for a record of achievement. The third part is the pendulum which stands for truth. Truth has a high station in Phi Rho Pi activities.

Walker Douglas was the toastmaster for the evening.

At the initiation, candidates took the Phi Rho Pi oath and were presented with membership cards.

Two of the Phi Rho Pi members debated before high school classes at Pasco High School on Monday, May 18. They were Sully Bayless and Roger Brown. They debated the question, Resolved: That Further Development of Nuclear Weapons Should Be Prohibited By International Agreement.

If you would enjoy debating and becoming a member of Phi Rho Pi for next year contact Marvin Olmstead, CBC Speech Professor, or any of the members of Phi Rho Pi.

University Institutions To Maintain Student

(ACP) — From University of Minnesota DAILY, Minneapolis, Minn. — Todd White tells what he'll do if tuition goes up:

I don't mind it a bit. In fact, I'm delighted they're going to raise my tuition $25. It will solve all my problems in one swoop.

You see, I am a University parking lot attendant and must make up on a budget of $100 a quarter. With tuition present at about $75 a quarter, I am able to struggle along with $25. It's nearly impossible to get room, board and something to eat on only $25, and I have found it exceedingly trying.

Now my problem is solved. The University is going to take the whole hundred dollars, and I won't have to rack my brains trying to figure out how to get along on $25. Instead, I can devote all my time to existing nothing by fully utilizing the facilities of the University.

Until I can think of something better, I'll cultivate a hangnail and take up residence at the Health Service. When that heals, I'll tell them I did it on purpose, and they'll send me over to the psycho ward, and that'll be the care of another few days' living.

The second week I'll volunteer for a nutritional experiment at the home economics department and a sound sleep at the psychology department. Monday morning of the third week I should be in good shape from all the food and sleep, so I'll go to the University hospitals and sell a pint of blood to finance the third week.

The fourth week I'll steal algae and agar from the botany department. I understand both are palatable if you're hungry enough. I'll hide under the cushions of a couch in the Men's Lounge at the Union and spend the nights there.

Fifth week is midquarter time and I won't have any appetite nor a desire to sleep. The sixth week I'll be getting my mid-quarters back, and I'll be so numb I won't need nourishment or a place to lie down. Maybe I'll have a nervous collapse and get to go back to the Health Service. Even if they don't admit me, I'll get several hours of sleep waiting in the lobby.

The last three weeks of the quarter I haven't figured out yet, but I'm not worried. The atrocious fuchsia flowers they plant in the campus flower boxes may be nutritious, for all I know.

CBC Associated Women Students Present Mother-Daughter Tea

CBC's 4th Annual Mother-Daughter Tea was held Tuesday at the A.W.S. under the theme of "Jane's Week at College."

More than 100 Mothers and Daughters were greeted as they arrived by Mrs. Doris Simmons and Yvonne King. Leota Moss, A.W.S. president, introduced the other AWS members and the teachers present. She also welcomed the mothers.

Jerry Housely, M.C., described "Jane's Week at College" and Mrs. Mary Rogers of Carl's Apparel described the clothes which "Jane" wore. Barbara Hougland, Thelma Davis, Nancy Shartess, Arlene Middlebrough, Cherry Ann Courteau and Judi Hamilton modeled, showing "Jane" at school, ball games and parties.

While the girls were modeling, Mrs. Lundgren and Carol Buckley entertained with piano music. Joyce Seat and Sherrie Brickey each sang solos which went along with the theme.

The decorations for the tea were small pink blossom flowers on each table and larger ones for the tea table. The climax of the afternoon was the awarding of flowers to the mothers who were sitting at tables with lucky numbers under the tablecloths.

After the entertainment, refreshments were served and the women visited.

The following girls served as committee chairmen for the tea:

Invitations, Barbara Hougland; refreshments, Marilyn Rochat; style show, Evada Carnahan; decorations, Jane Ziegler, tea tables, Tomenia Meidell; program, Carol Carter and script, Sybil McMullin.

Announcement of Arrival, Sale Given by Annual Staff Editor

Students wishing to purchase a yearbook should contact a staff member or go to the Neconia Club. The price of the yearbook is $5.00 (five dollars). Students wishing to buy a '59 yearbook should purchase one right away, because as editor Shirley Mansfield states, "only 300 books were printed and a limited supply remains."

Final payments must be paid before students can secure their books. Those who made a down payment in the fall may make the last one when they pick up their annual.

The publisher of the 1959 Neconia informed the staff that CBC's yearbook was the "best" book they printed this year and to quote him, "very outstanding features and it's very well put together—as a result we have decided to use the Neconia as a sample for our salesmen to use to represent the company . . ."

JC Prexies Here For Conference

Presidents of all 10 junior colleges in Washington were in Pasco May 14 and 15 for the annual meeting of the Washington Community Junior College Association, held this year at CBC.

The chief business at this year's session included the passing of a budget for the WACJC for the 1959-60 school year. The workshop is an annual affair for all junior college teachers and administrators, at which problems that affect junior colleges are discussed.

Next year's workshop will be held at Everett Junior College on October 16 and 17.

The group also met with the athletic commissioners from each school on Friday to discuss and approve a budget and sports schedule for next year.

New officers of the WACJC are George Hodson of Skagit Valley, president; Sigrid Rislov of Lower Columbia, vice president; Ben Hallgrimson of Centralia, secretary; and James Starr, of Wenatchee, treasurer. Chairman of the nominating committee was CBC's Jack Cooney, and members of the committee were Fred Kintzner of Olympia and Dwight Baird of Clark.

Cooper's Comments

BY ROGER COOPER

Spring sports in the past at CBC have always been strong, and this year is no exception. All three major sports—baseball, track, and tennis have come up with outstanding squads this season to uphold the tradition.

The baseball team, under the able direction of Coach Len Pyne, just recently completed a successful campaign by finishing second in the southern division of the J. C. Conference. The Hawks were narrowly edged out of the championship by Yakima J.C. as they dropped a twin bill to the Indians during the last week of play. The double loss gave the Indians a full game lead over the local baseballers, and enabled them to meet the northern division champion, Clark, for the State J.C. crown. Under Coach Len Pyne's and assistant coach, Hank Coplen's guidance, the Hawks ran up a 12-4 record in conference play this year and were 21-9 for the season. Several of the wins that were chalked up came at the hands of strong four year schools.

In track CBC has come up with several outstanding individual performers and has definitely established itself as one of the favorites to capture State JC honors. Led by Gary Whitmore, Fred Shaffer, and C. W. Brown, the tracksters just recently won first place in the meet for southern division schools, and qualified several men for the State event. The state meet will be held at Mount Vernon on the 22nd and 23rd of this month, and will climax a highly successful year for Coach Skip Pennington's track and field aspirants. Including the State event, the Hawks will have completed in six meets this season, and thus far have made excellent showing in all of them.

Tennis, like baseball and track, has also been a winning sport this spring. The netmen have been improving with every match and have shut out their last three opponents, winning 7-0 on each occasion. Like the baseballers, the tennis squad has played several above average teams this year out of the conference and has profited much from this experience. In conference action the only team to defeat the local netters this season was Yakima and that by a very slim margin. The team has now completed its regular season matches, and will spend the remainder of the year preparing for the conference finals, which will be held in Yakima May 22nd and 23rd. Coach Hal Akins has stated that four men will represent CBC in this meet.

Cuff Notes

When final statistics were released, the following players were leading the baseball team in these departments: Hitting—Jerry Jackson with a .410 average; Home runs—Marv Marchbands with three; RBI's—Bill Johnson with 27. The top hurlers for the Hawks this year were Rich Beck, 8-3, and Tony Burks, 7-3 . . . Fred Shaffer, also a standout footballer, has been heaving the discus consistently around the 160' mark this season. This is a mere eight feet off the National J.C. record . . . CBC, besides having the men's division, has come up with a girls' tennis team this year. Mrs. Racey has been coaching the team, and although the girls haven't played any matches, they will compete in the conference tournament at the end of the season. There is to be a special tourney for the girls . . . Tilbert Neal, former pitcher for CBC's Hawks, was recently released by the Tri-City Braves . . . Roger Cooper, Gil Howard, Don Peterson, and Spencer Kulp will represent the Hawk netters at the conference championships May 22nd and 23rd.

Shaffer Near Nat. Record Hawks Drop League Title

WALLA WALLA, Washington, May 9—The CBC Hawks placed 2nd in the Bill Martin Invitational track meet recently. They earned 28½ points.

The Pullman Athletic Club took first honors in the JC division with a total of 51 points. Idaho frosh trailed CBC with 27, enatchee Valley had 21, Yakima Valley 12½, and Lewis and Clark Normal was last with a total of 2 points.

Gary Whitmore was CBC's high point man for the day with firsts in both the 100 yd. dash and the 220 yd. dash. His times were :10.1 and :22.9 respectively.

Fred Shaffer set a new record in the discus by placing ahead of the varsity with a terrific heave of 160'-11". (eight more feet and he will hold the National JC record.)

C. W. Brown took a second in the high jump and a tie for third in the polevault.

Norris Brown, Chuck Heath, Les Rury, and Gary Whitmore worked well together in the 880 yd 520 w. They placed second.

CBC's baseball squad saw their chances of capturing the division championship slip away recently as they dropped both ends of a twin bill to Yakima J.C., 4-2 and 7-1. The losses left the Hawks with a 12-4 record.

The Indians finished the regular season play at 13-3, one game ahead of the local baseballers. The Hawks' only conference defeats this year have been at the hands of Yakima.

The Indians, as a result of their double victory over the Hawks, have earned the right to meet Clark for the Washington State J.C. Title. The playoff will be held at Yakima the 22nd and 23rd of this month.

Rury alos did well in the broad jump. He leaped 20'-6" for a second place.

In the 120 yd. high hurdles, Andy Drengson took third with a time of :17.5.

Norris Brown ran the 220 lows in :26.1 and placed second in that event.

The above are the CBC track men who will participate in State Junior College track meet

Tennis Team Eyes Title

Coach Hal Akins' tennis squad after a somewhat shaky start has begun to show the power that could possibly carry it to the J.C. conference title. CBC won the championship last year as Bill Nearants and Dave Clark won the doubles division, and as Clark also captured a runnerup position in singles to give the Hawks an unsurmountable point total. This season the competition could prove to be a little stiffer since, in general, the caliber of play has been much better. Yakima, Olympic, and Clark have all fielded strong teams and could pose quite a threat to the Hawks' chances.

Two former Kennewick players, Roger Cooper and Gil Howard, have been holding down the top two positions on this year's squad, with Don Peterson and Spencer Kulp rounding out the first four. Bob Butler, Ray Hall, and Jim Byrd have been trading off at the fifth position on the traveling team. Four of the above men will represent CBC at the conference championship, which will be held in Yakima, May 22 and 23.

To date, the Hawks hold victories over Clark, Centralia, Olympic, Everett, and Whitman. The only losses suffered this year by the local racketeers have been at the hands of Yakima and John Rogers, an exceptionally strong high school team from Spokane. The Hawks have two matches with Wenatchee remaining, and after their completion will spend the rest of the season preparing for the tournament.

As was mentioned previously, four players will represent CBC in this tournament. All four will play in the singles division and will pair up to give the Hawks two teams in the doubles competition. Last year's individual winners were Bill Nearants and Dave Clark of CBC in the doubles and Dick Marshall of Clark in the singles. Marshall will be back this year and is one of those favored to win.

Whitmore, Shaffer, Rurey Set New Conference Record

The CBC track team swept to first place Saturday in the Southern Division meet of the Washington Junior College Conference. Brilliant performances were displayed by Gary Whitmore, Fred Shaffer, Les Rurey and C. W. Brown, all from CBC.

CBC compiled 50 points, Grays Harbor 35, Centralia 28, Clark 27, and Lower Columbia 24; four of the 11 divisions marks set were established by three of the CBC trackmen.

Whitmore broke both marks in the sprints, running the 100 in 10.0 and legging the 220 in 22.1 setting new records established during a previous conference meet; Gary's two achievements plus running on the third place relay team earned him 10½ points.

In the discus event, Shaffer's heave of 154'-4" beat the conference record of 137'-2" that Fry of Centralia set in 1957, and also set a new division record.

C. W. Brown's 12'-0" pole vault enabled him to win first in the pole vault, to wind up second in the broad jump, and to tie for second in the high jump and receive third place in individual points.

Les Rurey's 21'-½" broadjump beat a division mark, but was a mere 1'8" short of a new conference record.

JYC Defeat CBC Twice

CBC's startling upset at the hands of the YJC baseball team produced a full game lead in junior college northern division standings.

The Hawk's double loss ended YJC to achieve a 7-1 record, leaving CBC with 6-2. Including doubleheader in the Tri-City towards the season's end, eight remaining games are scheduled.

During the first game, CBC leashed a one-run lead in the first inning on a walk to Marv Marchbanks, and well-driven single by Gene Beavers and Larry Br. YC in hot pursuit, scored winning runs in the fourth on two singles, a double, and an error.

YJC's four earned runs in the second inning, including two walks, two passed balls, two fielder's choices and an error, was sufficient to damage CBC's victory for the second game, although two runs in the sixth on a single, a double by Brown, and Jack Jackson's ground out put CBC's spirit is undampened.
